

Assistant / Associate / Full Professor – Academic Gastroenterologist

Division of Gastroenterology, St. Michael's Hospital,
Department of Medicine, University of Toronto

The Departments of Medicine at St. Michael's Hospital and University of Toronto are seeking a qualified full-time academic therapeutic gastroenterologist with advanced training and clinical experience in the management of GI neoplasia and Endoscopic Submucosal Dissection (ESD) and other aspects of third space endoscopy. The successful candidate must be eligible for a full-time clinical academic appointment at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor at the University of Toronto. The candidate will have an academic position description of Clinician Teacher or Clinician in Quality and Innovation (CQI). The expected start date of the position is September 1st 2021, or shortly thereafter.

This position will support outpatient demands and inpatient consultations, in addition to participating fully in the educational programs in Gastroenterology at St. Michael's Hospital and the University of Toronto. The candidate will have a proven academic record of excellence in any of clinical research, quality improvement or education.

The successful candidate will hold an MD degree and should have, or be eligible for, certification in Gastroenterology by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada and licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario (CPSO). The successful candidate will have completed advanced fellowship training in Therapeutic Endoscopy, including with a focus in third space endoscopy and ESD. The successful candidate will participate in the educational programs in Gastroenterology at St. Michael's Hospital and the University of Toronto and collaborate in clinical research and quality improvement programs. The successful candidate should be an effective teacher with demonstrated achievement in teaching and endoscopic education. Teaching accomplishments include the presence of a strong track record of interests and excellence in resident and fellow education, formal training in teaching methodology, leadership as a clinical teacher and other relevant experience. Advanced training in quality and evidence of scholarship is the minimum requirement for the CQI job description. Academic excellence in research will also be considered. Research accomplishments include peer-reviewed publications, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades.

The successful candidate will report to the Head, Division of Gastroenterology at St. Michael's Hospital. The Division of Gastroenterology, composed of eight full time academic gastroenterologists, has an international reputation in therapeutic endoscopy, clinical research, education and quality improvement. Estimated remuneration will be commensurate with academic rank, qualifications and experience.

Applications will be accepted until April 30, 2021. Should you be interested in this opportunity, please forward a one-page statement of interest, a curriculum vitae and the names and contact information of three referees to:

St. Michael's Hospital is part of Unity Health Toronto, the network of Providence, St. Joseph's and St. Michael's Healthcare. St. Michael's is a teaching and research hospital founded by the Sisters of St. Joseph in 1892 to care for the sick and poor of Toronto's inner city. Affectionately known as the Urban Angel, St. Michael's is renowned for providing exceptional patient care. As downtown Toronto's adult trauma centre, the hospital is a hub for neurosurgery, complex cardiac and cardiovascular care, therapeutic endoscopy, minimally invasive surgery and care of the homeless and disadvantaged. St. Michael's is also one of the province's major sites of care for critically ill patients. Fully affiliated with the University of Toronto, St. Michael's provides outstanding medical education to health-care professionals in more than 23 academic disciplines. Home to the Li Ka Shing Knowledge Institute, made up of the Keenan Research Centre and the Li Ka Shing International Healthcare Education Centre, the hospital integrates researchers, educators and clinicians to advance patient care.
