

The Division of Gastroenterology at UBC and VGH seeks a gastroenterologist, clinical faculty track. The candidate must have certification in Gastroenterology and Internal Medicine by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada with completion of additional fellowship training in inflammatory bowel disease at an academic centre. Acquisition of an advanced academic degree, e.g. MSc or PhD is preferred.

Candidates with completion of a fellowship at any Canadian, American or Commonwealth/European university centre are invited to apply.

The candidate should preferably have experience in teaching and will be expected to participate in the undergraduate as well as postgraduate teaching activities of the Division of Gastroenterology

It is anticipated that the successful candidate will be appointed initially as a clinical faculty member in the UBC Department of Medicine at minimally the rank of Clinical Assistant Professor.

The University of British Columbia and Vancouver Coastal Health hire on the basis of merit and are committed to employment gender equity. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

The appointment will commence July 1, 2024 and the closing date for applications is December 31, 2023.

Applications should include a curriculum vitae, a letter describing research experience and plans, together with four letters of reference addressing scholarly, professional work, teaching and administration. These should be sent to Elaine Grant (elaine.grant@vch.ca).
